Notes From A Classroom Reflections On Teaching:

Notes from a Classroom Kay McSpadden, 2007 Kay McSpadden's classroom in rural York South Carolina is windowless water stained gray and the scene of something amazing Inside slackers stay late to wrestle with Socrates A teenage mother discovers Shakespeare And a shy special ed student wins applause for powerful public speaking In Notes from a Classroom McSpadden introduces her unforgettable students She chronicles their encounters with literature And she shares what she's learned in thirty years of trial and error in the classroom How to turn teen diffidence bravado and apathy into a lifelong passion for learning ECGBL 2018 12th European Conference on Game-Based Learning Dr Melanie Ciussi, 2018-10-04

Student Empowerment in Higher Education. Reflecting on Teaching Practice and Learner Engagement Anjoom A. Mukadam, 2020-05-04 Student Empowerment in Higher Education brings together the accumulated knowledge and experience of many accomplished teachers and students from higher education institutions around the world and has much to offer those who are engaged in higher education as students teachers or support staff The authors offer personal reflections in teaching learning mentoring assessment hands on activities course design and student identities in higher education across the globe supported by academic research and scholarship Readers are provided with a window into tried and tested empowering practices in varying contexts enabling them to see what works and what does not alongside the challenges and possibilities A distinctive feature of this book and its paramount strength is that it explores best practices in student empowerment whilst reflecting on matters of teaching and learning that are familiar to students and teachers alike and also explores practices in a variety of disciplines The intention of these volumes therefore is not only to inform readers about the diverse learning and teaching approaches of the authors but most importantly to facilitate processes of student empowerment and promote reflection on teaching and learning practices In recent decades higher education policy discourse has persistently implied that a university education is delivered to students under the impersonal banner of the student experience Not only does this commodify the diverse individual experiences of students into one marketable product it also creates false barriers and power dynamics between students and their teachers In Student Empowerment in Higher Education the students and lecturers who collaborated to write this important volume have literally blown such misleading notions out of the window I highly recommend each varied and autonomous chapter to learn what really inspires confidence and success in university students Professor Sarah Hayes Professor of Higher Education Policy University of Wolverhampton The two volumes of Student Empowerment in Higher Education offer the reader rich and varied examples and understandings of student empowerment from around the world The authors provide reflective accounts of learning and teaching from diverse perspectives and disciplines which focus on many different areas of practice in higher education It is this variety that will appeal to many readers as the source of ideas and inspiration for numerous possible routes to empowerment With many chapters co-authored by students and staff the book models the collective responsibility students and staff have for enhancing student empowerment Dr Catherine Bovill Senior Lecturer in Student Engagement University of Edinburgh Fulbright Scholar Elon University North Carolina USA Visiting Fellow Knowledge Exchange University of Winchester School Library Journal ,2008 The Role of Reflection in Teachers' Professional Development Amy Elizabeth Sharpe,2006 How to Teach Metacognitive Reflection Robin Fogarty,1994-06 Metacognition or thinking about thinking is an awareness of and control over one's own thinking behavior This guide for teaching metacognitive reflection in the classroom is divided into three sections that highlight the arenas where metacognition can occur planning monitoring and evaluating Within each section 10 specific strategies are developed for immediate use in the classroom Some of these strategies to enhance reflection include stem statements think aloud techniques double entry journals self administered checklists and portfolio registries The easy to implement lesson models teach students to pose study questions for themselves explore the consequences of their choices decisions and actions reflect on how they learn synthesize their thoughts and actions in a log or journal and contemplate their reflective strategies for transfer and use The practical applications in this guide enable teachers to enhance their ability to monitor student reactions foster reflection of student work and promote students transfer of learning to novel situations Contains a 94 item bibliography TJJQ Heritage Language Program Direction Sara M.
