Miss Peabody's Inheritance:

Miss Peabody's Inheritance Elizabeth Jolley, 1983 Story within a story Dorothy Peabody is bored with her clerical work and her role as her mother's carer She begins to correspond with novelist Diana Hopewell who sends extracts from her novel in progress The novel concerns a headmistress travelling around Europe with several companions As Miss Peabody becomes more involved with the tale her life becomes inextricably tied with the fictitious events Miss Peabody's Inheritance, 1987 An interpretive essay precisising the characters plot themes and meanings and critical context of Miss Peabody's Inheritance appropriate for upper secondary lower tertiary use From Miss Peabody's Inheritance, 1993 One passage from this extract also appears in the 1988 story Miss Peabody's Inheritance Dr Thorne and Miss Peabody: Miss Peabody's Inheritance, 1991 Radio Broadcast Details for Elizabeth Jolley's Miss Peabody's Inheritance, 1991 Elizabeth Jolley's Miss Peabody's Inheritance and John Wain's The Pardoner's Tale: A Comparison in Theme and Technique, 1999 Review of Miss Peabody's Inheritance, 1984 Description of this uniquely witty Australian novel Fiction and the Figures of Life - Miss Peabody's Inheritance, 1987 Part of course book for Literary Processes an open campus program offered by Deakin University Large part of course focuses on Miss Peabody's Inheritance 'I Cannot Antagonize People When I Depend on Them': Resistance and Reconciliation in Elizabeth Jolley's Miss Peabody's Inheritance, 2005 In Search of Lost Mothers: Margaret Laurence's The Diviners and Elizabeth Jolley's Miss Peabody's Inheritance, 1988 Both novels explore women writers relation to literary and cultural traditions as they write their way out of dispossession into inheritance Howells attempts to track down lost mothers by showing the relationship of these two novels to female literary traditions Miss Peabody feels disinherited in England and her search for a lost mother is an index of her own gendered sense of unbelonging Miss Peabody shares with Diana Hopewell a female sensibility toward landscape as an image of psychic freedom Postcolonial Con-Texts John Thieme, 2002-03-01 In recent years works such as Jean Rhys's Wide Sargasso Sea J M Coetzee's Foe and Peter Carey's Jack Maggs which write back to classic English texts have attracted considerable attention as offering a paradigm for the relationship between post colonial writing and the canon Thieme's study provides a broad overview of such writing focusing both on responses to texts that have frequently been associated with the colonial project or the construction of race The Tempest Robinson Crusoe Heart of Darkness and Othello and texts where the interaction between culture and imperialism is slightly less overt Great Expectations Jane Eyre and Wuthering Heights The post colonial con texts examined are located within their particular social and cultural backgrounds with emphasis on the different forms their responses to their pre texts take and the extent to which they create their own discursive space Using Edward Said's models of filiative relationships and affiliative identifications the book argues that writing back is seldom adversarial rather that it operates along a continuum between complicity and oppositionality that dismantles hierarchical positioning It also suggests that post colonial appropriations of canonical pre texts frequently generate re readings of their originals It concludes by considering the implications of this argument for discussions of identity politics and literary genealogies more generally Authors examined include Chinua Achebe Margaret Atwood Kamau Brathwaite Peter Carey J M Coetzee Robertson Davies Wilson Harris Elizabeth Jolley Robert Kroetsch George Lamming Margaret Laurence Pauline Melville V S Naipaul Caryl Phillips Ngugi wa Thiong o Jean Rhys Salman Rushdie Djanet Sears Sam Selvon Olive Senior Jane Urquhart and Derek Walcott

Homemaking Catherine Wiley, Fiona R. Barnes, 2021-11-18 First published in 1996 The present volume Homemaking Women Writers and the Politics and Poetics of Home enters the critical discourse on gender by way of two of its most pressing issues the politics of women's locations at the end of the twentieth century and the division of experience into public and private That the emergence of systematic feminist thought in the west coincided with the invention of private life should not surprise us Feminist thinkers from Mary Wollstonecrofton were quick to realize that the designation of the public and the private male and female was key to the subordination of women

Voices in Time: A Kindness Cup and Miss Peabody's Inheritance, 1986 Thea Astley and Elizabeth Jolley have in common the subtlety and complexity of their narrative methods Both A Kindness Cup and Miss Peabody's Inheritance contain a text within a text and Goldsworthy considers that the narrative methods employed are precisely those which elude and defy containment definition and separation

Rewriting God Elaine Lindsay, 2000 Women are rarely if ever mentioned in commentaries upon Australian Christianity and spirituality Only exceptional women are recognized as authorities on religious matters Why is this so Does it matter Don't people from the same religious tradition share similar experiences of the divine regardless of their gender Rewriting God asks whether women have been writing about the divine and whether their insights are different from those contained in malestream accounts of Australian Christianity and spirituality An analysis of the writings of popular theologians and religious commentators over the last twenty years suggests that the most popular form of spirituality among Australian theologians is Desert Spirituality An analysis of women's autobiographical writings however suggests that the desert is irrelevant to many women's spiritual experiences This book through a close investigation of the fictions of Thea Astley Elizabeth Jolley and Barbara Hanrahan attempts to posit alternative forms of women's spirituality and to signal ways in which this spirituality is already being expressed From the evidence gathered here it becomes obvious that traditional expressions of Australian Christianity and spirituality are gender specific and that they have functioned to deny women's religious experiences and to silence their claims to equality in the sight and service of the divine It becomes obvious too that women have been developing their own forms of religious expression and that these may be expected to supplant gradually withering images of Desert Spirituality Whether this new imagery will strengthen Australian Christianity or whether it merely marks a decline in the authority of Christianity remains a moot point
