Historic Savannah:

Historic and Picturesque Savannah Adelaide Wilson, 1889      Lost Savannah Luciana M. Spracher, 2003-03 Since its founding over 250 years ago Savannah Georgia has become a historic preservation gold mine exhibiting a variety of architectural styles However during the late 19th and early 20th centuries the area experienced heavy economic growth during which numerous buildings were demolished regardless of age or condition to make way for newer and supposedly better structures The community lost many important landmarks architectural masterpieces and a piece of its history Lost Savannah takes a close look at these vanished buildings to document their existence and role in Savannah s past Drawing on collections of the Georgia Historical Society a rich presentation of Savannah s public private and commercial architecture has been brought together in this unique photographic volume Through vintage images one can see the city s development and growth as well as its subsequent decay prior to the preservation movement Lost Savannah examines individual buildings such as Union Station and the Bulloch Habersham House as well as the evolution of Savannah s architectural landscape including West Broad Street and Elbert Square      Historic Savannah ,1968      Historic Savannah Camie M. Jones, 2005-01-01      Historic Savannah Historic Savannah Foundation, 1979      Savannah's Historic Neighborhoods Polly Stramm, 2001 A trio of historic neighborhoods in Savannah Georgia rank among the most picturesque in the United States Ardsley Park Chatham Crescent and Ardmore are well known for their unique layouts and varied architectural styles as well as lush shrubbery and the moss draped oaks that have become a trademark of Savannah s charm The development of Ardsley Park and Chatham Crescent began around 1910 as the advent of the automobile allowed more Savannahians to move to the suburbs Neighboring Ardmore to the south of Ardsley Park and Chatham Crescent came later during the 1920s The entire area was named to the National Register of Historic Places in 1985 For decades the neighborhoods have been home to some of Savannah s most prominent families Former residents include media mogul Ted Turner and the University of Georgia bulldog mascot owned by Frank W Sonny Seiler Within these pages are photographs from private collections never before made available to the public images of Savannahians at work and at play Captivating scenes of days long ago reveal the history of a much beloved community      Early and Historic Freemasonry of Georgia, 1733/4-1800 William Bordley Clarke, 1924      A History of Savannah and South Georgia William Harden, 1913      Historic Signs of Savannah Justin Gunther, 2004 From the cotton boom after the Civil War to Savannah s economic decline around the middle of the 20th century the city s streetscapes were crowded with signs In a time before strict sign regulations business owners embellished building facades and rooftops with extensive signage to catch the eye of pedestrians and motorists The abundance of advertising was symbolic of Savannah s rapid growth and prosperity but the majority of these signs were discarded over the years and only a few remain Photographs and postcards from the past survive however and images of historic signs serve as reminders of these lost commercial relics Such signs give the bricks and mortar of the past another dimension by identifying their social purpose Through vintage images of Savannah signage this volume provides a history of the city s businesses and industries Included are local landmarks like Levy Jewelers the Globe Shoe Company the Lucas Theatre the Marshall House and Johnny Harris Restaurant

Building Savannah David E. Kelley,2000 Savannah s distinct architecture has been studied and admired by scholars builders and tourists from all over the world and the history of its most prolific period of expansion and development is explored in this photographic essay A city that was spared the wrath of the Union forces Savannah emerged from the Civil War psychologically defeated but still physically intact During the second half of the nineteenth century this picturesque Georgia city enjoyed tremendous growth in a booming economic environment Building Savannah chronicles this period in the city s history with photographs sketches maps and advertisements many culled from the archives of the Georgia Historical Society Coupled with informative research these images illustrate every aspect of the building industry that thrived in Savannah Local architects and builders embraced the transformation that was sweeping the entire country and used both natural resources and technical innovation to create a unique built environment The building industries once fueled by the virgin resources of the South would be exhausted by the end of the Second World War As modern materials became popular the lumber mills withered old foundries closed and the industry was forever changed What was left in Savannah was the indelible mark of the building era seen in the careful craftsmanship and ornate design of its homes and businesses Urban Environment Design Research Robert M.
