

THE SECRET GARDEN

Frances Hodgson Burnett

Mary Lennox was nothing like her frivolous and pretty mother. Ignored by her parents and overindulged by her ayahs, she was a spoiled, lonely girl in India. Her life takes an unexpected turn when everybody she knew succumbs to a cholera epidemic. Orphaned, she is shipped off to England to live in her uncle's household at Misselthwaite Manor. Confronted by new possibilities, Mary finds herself liking the moors of Yorkshire but the peace of the huge house is disturbed by a wailing that echoes through its halls. The beautiful gardens surrounding it are haunted by a mysterious and tragic past.

What are the secrets that the isolated manor hides? Is Mary finally, going to be able to make a home out of the house? Is there something really magical and healing about the moors of Yorkshire? Frances Hodgson Burnett's novel forms a perfect combination of mystery, magic and love.

THERE IS NO ONE LEFT

When Mary Lennox was sent to Misselthwaite Manor to live with her uncle everybody said she was the most disagreeable looking child ever seen It was true too She had a little thin face and a little thin body thin light hair and a sour expression Her hair was yellow and her face was yellow because she had been born in India and had always been ill in one way or another Her father had held a position under the English Government and had always been busy and ill himself and her mother had been a great beauty who cared only to go to parties and amuse herself with gay people She had not wanted a little girl at all and when Mary was born she handed her over to the care of an Ayah who was made to understand that if she wished to please the Mem Sahib she must keep the child out of sight as much as possible So when she was a sickly fretful ugly little baby she was kept out of the way and when she became a sickly fretful toddling thing she was kept out of the way also She never remembered seeing familiarly anything but the dark faces of her Ayah and the other native servants and as they always obeyed her and gave her her own way in everything because the Mem Sahib would be angry if she was disturbed by her crying by the time she was six years old she was as tyrannical and selfish a little pig as ever lived The young English governess who came to teach her to read and write disliked her so much that she gave up her place in three months and when other governesses came to try to fill it they always went away in a shorter time than the first one So if Mary had not chosen to really want to know how to read books she would never have learned her letters at all One frightfully hot morning when she was about nine years old she awakened feeling very cross and she became crosser still when she saw that the servant who stood by her bedside was not her Ayah Why did you come she said to the strange woman I will not let you stay Send my Ayah to me The woman looked frightened but she only stammered that the Ayah could not come and when Mary threw herself into a passion and beat and kicked her she looked only more frightened and repeated that it was not possible for the Ayah to come to Missie Sahib There was something mysterious in the air that morning Nothing was done in its regular order and several of the native servants seemed missing while those whom Mary saw slunk or hurried about with ashy and scared faces But no one would tell her anything and her Ayah did not come She was actually left alone as the morning went on and at last she wandered out into the garden and began to play by herself under a tree near the veranda She pretended that she was making a flower bed and she stuck big scarlet hibiscus blossoms into little heaps of earth all the time growing more and more angry and muttering to herself the things she would say and the names she would call Saidie when she returned Pig Pig Daughter of Pigs she said because to call a native a pig is the worst insult of all She was grinding her teeth and saying this over and over again when she heard her mother come out on the veranda with some one She was with a fair young man and they stood talking together in low strange voices Mary knew the fair young man who looked like a boy She had heard that he was a very young officer who had just come from England

The child stared at him but she stared most at her mother. She always did this when she had a chance to see her because the Mem Sahib Mary used to call her that oftener than anything else was such a tall slim pretty person and wore such lovely clothes. Incite, 1988

In the Garden Angelica Shirley Carpenter, 2006-10-05 This book is a collection of articles about the life and work of Frances Hodgson Burnett. The broad range of subjects and the varied backgrounds of the contributing authors are a tribute to Burnett's wide and international appeal. The book includes articles by three Burnett biographers, criticism of Burnett's works and literary and social analysis of her books by scholars from several countries. These range from Pulitzer Prize winner Alison Lurie to new scholars who are being published here for the first time. The articles range from essays to transcripts of interviews and speeches and a filmography. The book presents new research on films and plays based on Burnett books. The primary organization of the essays is chronological but the book is also arranged to reflect the structure of the Frances Hodgson Burnett Beyond the Secret Garden Conference held at California State University Fresno April 25-27 2003.

The A to Z of Everything Debbie Johnson, 2006-03-10 My darlings Not to be too Hollywood about this but if you're watching this tape that can mean only one thing I have shuffled off this mortal coil and you two are going to need each other more than ever. You need to set aside your differences and look out for each other just like you always used to. Poppy and Rose used to be close as sisters could be until everything went wrong. Now in their forties they haven't spoken in years. But when their vivacious glamorous powerhouse of a mother dies they are both faced with the shock of grief. However their mother was not one to go shrinking into the night. No their mother Andrea has left them a project to work on together a sort of scavenger hunt through their lives which she calls the A to Z of Everything. Her final wish to heal the fractured relationship between her daughters that broke her heart. A is for Ashes C is for champagne D is for Daddy Issues. But when they get to F for Forgiveness can they make a start even when they can barely look at each other. With Andrea's wicked sense of humor and wild stories from her acting career she has left the quest in a series of boxes filled with letters recordings videos mementos and instructions. From Liverpool to London and even Paris the sisters follow the trail toward a glimmer of hope despite loss there is room for laughter love and healing and for second chances.
