The Red Planet

Mars is often called the red planet because of its brick-red surface. It is the second planet from the sun. It has two moons, Phobos and Deimos. It is the only planet in our solar system with a polar ice cap. Sometimes plant dust storms cover the whole planet. It is the only planet in our solar system that has a day and night cycle. It is the only planet in our solar system that has a year.

Both Earth and Mars are made mostly of rock. Earth is the third planet from the sun, and Mars is the fourth. Earth has one satellite, the moon, in its orbit. Mars has two satellites. They are both shaped something like potatoes.

Although Mars is thought to be the second most livable planet in the solar system, there is almost no liquid water or breathable air on Mars. Thus, nothing from Earth could live there.
