New Waves In Philosophy Of Action

Claude C. Lee

New Waves In Philosophy Of Action:

New Waves in Philosophy of Action J. Aguilar, A. Buckareff, K. Frankish, 2010-10-29 A collection of original state of the art essays by some of the best young philosophers working on the myriad problems of action and agency Each one has already made important contributions to the philosophy of action and cognate areas The chapters reflect their research and make a significant contribution to some debate in the field

Advances in Experimental Philosophy of Action Paul Henne, Samuel Murray, 2023-04-20 What is self control Does a person need to be conscious to act Are delusions always irrational Questions such as these are fundamental for investigations into action and rationality as well as how we assign responsibility for wrongdoing and assess clinical symptoms Bridging the gap between philosophy and psychology this interdisciplinary collection showcases how empirical research informs and enriches core questions in the philosophy of action Exploring issues such as truth moral judgement agency consciousness and cognitive control chapters offer an overview of the current state of research present new empirical findings and identify where future experimental work can further advance the frontier between philosophy and psychology This is an essential resource for anyone looking to better understand how science and philosophy can meaningfully inform our knowledge of human agency

Action Reconceptualized David K. Chan, 2016-05-11 The concept of action that requires philosophical analysis is one that concerns behavior characteristically found in humans In Action Reconceptualized Human Agency and Its Sources David K Chan examines the sources of human agency that are proposed in causal theories of action namely desire intention and trying and distinguishes them from each other in terms of their roles in practical reasoning and motivation He conceptualizes them in relation to each other in a way that is consistent and useful for answering a number of questions that are central to the philosophy of action The action theory in this book addresses the need to understand human agency for its own sake but it also serves another purpose When the philosopher Elizabeth Anscombe stressed the need to do philosophy of action before doing ethical theory what she meant was that moral philosophers should first work out a proper account of the relationship between the inner states of a person and the actions that she performs This book provides such an account and makes the case that it is desire rather than intention that is the basis for the ethical evaluation of an agent Action Reconceptualized will be of particular interest to students and scholars doing research in action theory and ethics as well as to those working outside of philosophy in psychology and cognitive science

Time in Action Carla Bagnoli, 2022-03-24 This book explores the role of time in rational agency and practical reasoning Agents are finite and often operate under severe time constraints Action takes time and unfolds in time While time is an ineliminable constituent of our experience of agency it is both a theoretical and a practical problem to explain whether and how time shapes rational agency and practical thought The essays in this book are divided into three parts Part I is devoted to the temporal structure of action and agency from metaphysical and metaethical perspectives Part II features essays about the temporal structure of rational deliberation from the perspective of action theory and theories of practical reasoning Part III includes essays about the temporal aspects of failures of rationality Taken together the essays in this book shed new light on our understanding of the temporality of agency that coheres with our subjective sense of finitude and explains rational agency both in time and over time Time in Action will be of interest to advanced students and researchers working on the philosophy of time metaphysics of action action theory practical reasoning ethical theory moral psychology and rational justification

Knowledge, Virtue, and Action Tim Henning, David P. Schweikard, 2013-09-23 This volume brings together recent work by leading and up and coming philosophers on the topic of virtue epistemology The prospects of virtue theoretic analyses of knowledge depend crucially on our ability to give some independent account of what epistemic virtues are and what they are for The contributions here ask how epistemic virtues matter apart from any narrow concern with defining knowledge they show how epistemic virtues figure in accounts of various aspects of our lives with a special emphasis on our practical lives In essence the essays here put epistemic virtues to work

Mental Action and the Conscious Mind Michael Brent, Lisa Miracchi Titus, 2022-07-15 Mental action deserves a place among foundational topics in action theory and philosophy of mind Recent accounts of human agency tend to overlook the role of conscious mental action in our daily lives while contemporary accounts of the conscious mind often ignore the role of mental action and agency in shaping consciousness This collection aims to establish the centrality of mental action for discussions of agency and mind The thirteen original essays provide a wide ranging vision of the various and nuanced philosophical issues at stake Among the questions explored by the contributors are Which aspects of our conscious mental lives are agential Can mental action be reduced to and explained in terms of non agential mental states processes or events Must mental action be included among the ontological categories required for understanding and explaining the conscious mind more generally Does mental action have implications for related topics such as attention self knowledge self control or the mind body problem By investigating the nature scope and explanation of mental action the essays presented here aim to demonstrate the significance of conscious mental action for discussions of agency and mind Mental Action and the Conscious Mind will be of interest to scholars and graduate students working in philosophy of mind philosophy of action and philosophy of agency as well as to philosophically inclined cognitive scientists

International Congress International Union of Public Transport, 1995

Knowledge and Rational Action Roman Heil, 2025-07-23 This book motivates and systematically develops the view that knowledge should be at the centre of our theory of practical rationality Only act on what you know the book offers the first comprehensive defence of this slogan in the form of a knowledge based decision theory The proposed view is shown to be the most straightforward explanation of emerging bodies of evidence for a link between knowledge and rational action The book provides novel solutions to well known challenges that invoke high stakes scenarios seemingly rational actions based on reasonable but false beliefs and decision making under risk and uncertainty The emerging view brings together traditional and formal approaches to epistemology and the study of practical rationality The resulting knowledge based decision theory is embedded in a rich normative landscape encompassing innovative accounts of excuses rational acceptance and the simplification of reasoning Knowledge and Rational Action will be of great interest to researchers and graduate students interested in epistemology practical rationality and decision theory
