Radical Artifice Radical Artifice:

Radical Artifice Marjorie Perloff, 1991 Explores the intricate relationships of postmodern poetics to the culture of network television advertising layout and the computer Perloff argues that poetry today like the visual arts and theater is always contaminated by the language of mass media Among the many poets Perloff discusses are John Ashbery George Oppen Susan Howe Clark Coolidge Lyn Hejinian Leslie Scalapino Charles Bernstein Johanna Drucker Steve McCaffery and preeminently John Cage Publisher The Testimonies of Russian and American Postmodern Poetry Albena Lutzkanova-Vassileva, 2016-06-30 This book challenges the belief in the purely linguistic nature of contemporary poetry and offers an interpretation of late twentieth century Russian poetry as a testimony to the unforeseen annulment of communist reality and its overnight displacement by a completely unfathomable post totalitarian order Albena Lutzkanova Vassileva argues that because of the sudden invalidation of a reality that had been largely seen as unattained and everlasting this shift remained secluded from the mind and totally resistant to cognition thus causing a collectively traumatic psychological experience The book proceeds by inquiring into a school of contemporary American poetry that has been likewise read as cut off from reality Executing a comparative analysis Vassileva advances a new understanding of this poetry as a testimony to the overwhelming and traumatic impact of contemporary media which have assailed the mind with far more signals than it can register digest and furnish with semantic weight The Princeton Encyclopedia of Poetry and Poetics Roland Greene, Stephen Cushman, Clare Cavanagh, Jahan Ramazani, Paul Rouzer, Harris Feinsod, David Marno, Alexandra Slessarev, 2012-08-26 Rev ed of The Princeton encyclopedia of poetry and poetics Alex Preminger and T V F Brogan co editors Frank J Warnke O B Hardison Jr and Earl Miner associate editors 1993 Literature and the Rise of the Interview Rebecca Roach, 2018-11-15 Today interviews proliferate everywhere in newspapers on television and in anthologies as a method they are a major tool of medicine the law the social sciences oral history projects and journalism and in the book trade interviews with authors are a major promotional device We live in an interview society How did this happen What is it about the interview form that we find so appealing and horrifying Are we all just gossips or is there something more to it What are the implications of our reliance on this bizarre dynamic for publicity subjectivity and democracy Literature and the Rise of the Interview addresses these questions from the perspective of literary culture The book traces the ways in which the interview form has been conceived and deployed by writers and interviewing has been understood as a literary critical practice It excavates what we might call a poetics of the interview form and practice In so doing it covers 150 years and four continents It includes a diverse rostrum of well known writers such as Henry James T S Eliot Ezra Pound Djuna Barnes William Burroughs Philip Roth J M Coetzee and Toni Morrison while reintroducing some individuals that history has forgotten such as Betty Ross Queen of Interviewers and Julian Hawthorne Nathaniel s profligate son Together these stories expose the interview s position in the literary imagination and consider what this might tell us about conceptions of literature authorship and reading communities in modernity Feeling as a Foreign Language Alice Fulton,1999-03 In Feeling as a Foreign Language Alice Fulton considers poetry's uncanny ability to access and recreate emotions so wayward they go unnamed Fulton contemplates topics ranging from the intricacies of a rare genetic syndrome to fractals from the aesthetics of complexity theory to the need for cultural incorrectness Along the way she falls in love with an outrageous 17th century poet argues for a Dickinsonian tradition in American letters and calls for a courageous poetics of inconvenient knowledge

Cultural Criticism in Women's Experimental Writing Kornelia Freitag,2006 Contemporary experimental poetry By women But is this women's writing The type of poetry that is central to this book has long been met with surprise if not rejection by both critics and the general public This volume is an introduction to recent developments in women's poetic experiments an area that has grown from rather marginalized and isolated beginnings into a thriving and highly visible field Women's experimental texts can no longer be ignored but they remain a challenge to readers and critics this study examines some of the reasons why recognition has been delayed and it also provides a range of new readings With particular focus on poetry by Rosmarie Waldrop Lyn Hejinian and Susan Howe women's poetic experiments are shown to be a critique of current practices of cultural representation that relegate women's poetry and experimental writing to separate spheres The Kenyon Review John Crowe Ransom,1999 Editor winter 1939 autumn 1941 J C Ransom We who Love to be Astonished Laura Hinton,Cynthia Hogue,2002 This first critical volume devoted to the full range of women's postmodern works includes some of the most respected writers and critics in the contemporary avant garde We Who Love to Be Astonished collects a powerful group of previously unpublished essays to fill a gap in the critical evaluation of women's contributions to postmodern experimental writing Contributors include Alan Golding Aldon Nielsen and Rachel Blau DuPlessis discussions include analyses of the work of Kathleen Fraser Harryette Mullen and Kathy Acker among others The editors take as their title a line from the work of Lyn Hejinian one of the most respected of innovative women poets writing today The volume is organized into four sections the first two seek to identify from two different angles the ways women of different sociocultural backgrounds are exploring their relationships to their cultures inherited traditions the third section investigates the issue of visuality and the problems and challenges it creates and the fourth section expands on the role of the body as material and performance The collection will breach a once irreconcilable divide between those who theorize about women's writing and those who focus on formalist practice By embracing astonishment as the site of formalist feminist investigation the editors seek to show how form configures feminist thought and likewise how feminist thought informs words and letters on a page Students and scholars of avant garde poetry women's writing and late 20th century American literature will welcome this lively discussion Assemblage ,1991 Eminent Radicals in Parliament ... John Morrison Davidson,1879 Eminent Radicals in and Out of Parliament John Morrison Davidson,1880 Postmodernisms Now Charles Altieri,1998 Altieri begins with an essay defining five basic contradictions in postmodern theory and outlining specific artistic strategies for dwelling with and within those contradictions Part Two then sets the historical stage with two essays one focusing on the efforts to overthrow late modernism by Jasper Johns and John Ashbery the other tracing the emergence of a logic of contingency in the poetics of Robert Creeley Frank O'Hara and Sylvia Plath With Part Three the focus shifts to essays proposing different value frameworks for postmodern poets frameworks that range from moral philosophy to the resources of the tradition of love poetry Part Four turns to visual artists first engaging the efforts to politicize the postmodern in the 1980s then showing how Frank Stella's work can be put in dialogue with that of Jacques Derrida Finally the book swallows its own tail by proposing an argument that the only version of the sublime that today does not collapse into self congratulation is the sublime of self disgust

Discoveries in Hebrew, Gaelic, Gothic, Anglo-Saxon, Latin, Basque and Other Caucasian Languages Allison Emery Drake, 1907 Millennial Perspectives Brigitte Georgi-Findlay, Hans-Ulrich Mohr, 2003 Proceedings of a conference Dresden 2000 Amerikastudien, 1974 Poetry as Re-Reading Ming-Qian Ma, 2008-08-20 Grounded in a detailed and compelling account of the philosophy guiding such a project Ma's book traces a continuity of thought and practice through the very different poetic work of objectivists Louis Zukofsky George Oppen Carl Rakosi and John Cage and language poets Susan Howe Lyn Hejinian Bruce Andrews and Charles Bernstein His deft individual readings provide an opening into this notoriously difficult work even as his larger critique reveals a new and clarifying perspective on American modernist and post modernist avant garde poetics Ma shows how we cannot understand these poets according to the usual way of reading but must see how they deliberately use redundancy unpredictability and irrationality to undermine the meaning oriented foundations of American modernism and to force a new and different kind of reading Pub desc Media Poetry Eduardo Kac, 2007 Media Poetry is the first international anthology to document a radically new poetry which takes language beyond the confines of the printed page into a non linear world of multimedia interactivity and networking This anthology includes extensive documentation and discussion of digital poetry and expands the range of contemporary writing to encompass poems created with video holography skywriting and even biotechnology The work of the poets discussed in this book challenges even the innovations of experimental poetics It embraces new technologies to explore a new syntax made of linear and non linear animation hyperlinkage interactivity real time text generation spatiotemporal discontinuities self similarity synthetic spaces immateriality diagrammatic relations visual tempo multiple simultaneities and many other innovative procedures The American Poetry Wax Museum Jed Rasula, 1996 Drawing upon literary criticism cultural studies and social history this book examines the canonizing assumptions and compulsions that have fabricated an image of American poetry since World War II foremost of which is the enshrinement of the self expressive subject The tone of the book oscillates between documentary and polemic in an attempt to preserve the tensions that underlie the field of American poetry and which are typically subdued by anthologists and glossed over by commentators The first chapter offers a theoretical scaffolding intended to contextualize following chapters and to invite other poets and critics to consider what it means to assemble and police a national canon of poetry. Subsequent chapters examine scholarship on contemporary American poetry, the cultural politics of publication and reviewing which excludes women, people of color, and gays and lesbians from many poetry anthologies, and poetry in the academy and the role of the poetry workshop. Ten appendixes list American poetry anthologies, most anthologized poets, number of anthology appearances, poets by birthdate, first anthology appearances, anthologies in translation, prizes and awards, results of a search of the MLA bibliography on CD-ROM, critical discussions of American poets, and interviews. Collections of poets' essays. RS. Sagetrieb, 1999. Poetry's Playground. Joseph T. Thomas, 2007. The first book-length study of contemporary American children's poetry. Poetry's Playground considers children's poetry in relation to the wider scope of adult poetic discourse. While the study of children's poetry has always had a place in the realm of children's literature, scholars have not typically considered it in relation to the larger scope of contemporary poetry. In this volume, Joseph T. Thomas Jr. explores the playground of children's poetry within the world of contemporary adult poetic discourse, bringing the complex social relations of play and games, cliques and fashions, and drama and humor in children's poetry to light for the first time. Poetry's Playground considers children's poetry published in the United States from the mid-twentieth century onward, a time when many established adult poets began writing for young audiences. Through the work of major figures like Robert Frost, Gwendolyn Brooks, Carl Sandburg, Randall Jarrell, Theodore Roethke, Shel Silverstein, and Jack Prelutsky, Thomas explores children's poems within the critical and historical conversations surrounding adult texts, arguing at the same time that children's poetry is an oft-neglected but crucial part of the American poetic tradition. Canonical issues are central to Poetry's Playground. The volume begins by tracing Robert Frost's emergence as the United States' official school poet, exploring the political and aesthetic dimensions of his canonization and considering which other poets were pushed aside as a result. The study also includes a look at eight major anthologies of children's poems in the United States, offering a descriptive canon that will be invaluable to future scholarship. Additionally, Poetry's Playground addresses poetry actually written and performed by children, exploring the connections between folk poetry produced both on playgrounds and in the classroom. Poetry's Playground is a groundbreaking study that makes bold connections between children's and adult poetry. This book will be of interest to poets, scholars of poetry and children's literature, as well as students and teachers of literary history, cultural anthropology, and contemporary poetry.
