Forming Transnational Dispute Settlement Norms Shahla F. Ali, 2021-05-28 This thought provoking book examines whether regional centres associated with global legal institutions facilitate expanded citizen engagement in global soft law making Through an analysis of empirical research into the role of decentralized soft law making in the East Asian region it investigates the influence of such regional centres in overcoming representational deficits in the design of cross border dispute settlement norms

The Relationship between Human Security Discourse and International Law Shireen Daft, 2017-12-01 The concept of human security has emerged in international relations and policy as an idea which not only seeks to relocate the focus of international society on the individual but also challenges the current priorities of the international community In particular it places emphasis on promoting and facilitating a nexus between security development and human rights It is potentially a paradigm in the making gaining considerable momentum within the UN international relations scholarship and regional bodies And yet by and large it continues to be unexplored by the international legal community despite the success of a number of international treaties being attributed to the discourse This book seeks to address this gap and establish the nature of the relationship between human security discourse and international law determining whether human security can meaningfully contribute to the international legal framework To determine this the book analyses the core principles of human security discourse and examines the degree to which they find parallels in the existing normative structure of international law. The book examines how the broad narrow debate that dominates human security discourse has played out in international law making. It goes on to consider the processes for the creation of so called human security treaties in order to determine a blueprint for future development of international human security treaty law. In concluding, Shireen Daft sets out a structured principled approach through which international legal scholarship can engage with human security highlighting the ways in which engagement between the two fields can be sustained.

Re-Imagining Sovereign Debt in International Law through the lens of Socio-Economic Rights Muhammad Bello, 2024-07-22. Re-imagining sovereign debt examines the extent to which sovereign debtors' contractual obligations may be honoured where the socio-economic rights of their citizens face clear danger of non-realisation. It critiques the foundational legal paradigm that influences and shapes the substance of the sovereign debt regime. In doing this, the author employs legal theory to show the inadequacies of the regime in terms of its failure to embrace the dynamism of sovereign debt which he characterises as a debt with a complex mix of public-private elements, hybridity of norms and multiplicity of interests beyond the two-sided creditor-debtor matrix. By locating socio-economic rights in all critical phases of the regime, the author shows that the recurring circles of debt crises are linked to the continuing influence of the private law paradigm. The book offers a fresh perspective to re-imagine sovereign debt using insights from transnational legal theorists and advocates prioritising socio-economic rights considerations in debt contracting, restructuring and adjudication through a more concrete recognition of creditors' responsibilities. Re-imagining sovereign debt will interest lawyers, policymakers, diplomats, scholars and researchers interested in the law, history and politics of sovereign debt.

Cities in International Decision-Making Agnieszka Szpak, Robert Gawłowski, Joanna Modrzyńska, Paweł Modrzyński, Michał Dahl, 2025-02-12. With illustrative case studies on international organizations and transnational city networks across Europe, this innovative book argues that cities are becoming more active participants in international law making and challenging the previously dominant nation-state approach of recent history.

Corruption as an Empty Signifier Lucy Koechlin, 2013-05-23. Corruption as an Empty Signifier critically explores the ways in which corruption in Africa has been equated with African politics and political order and offers a novel approach to understanding corruption as a potentially emancipatory discourse of political transformation.

The Discourse on Customary International Law Jean D'Aspremont, 2021. This book provides an accessible and highly engaging discussion of customary international law. It employs an original theoretical perspective to unpack the structures of thought that lie beneath any claims made regarding customary international law.

Research Handbook on Climate Change, Oceans and Coasts Jan McDonald, Jeffrey McGee, Richard Barnes, 2020-12-25. This topical Research Handbook examines the legal intersections of climate change, oceans and coasts across multiple scales and sectors covering different geographies and regions. With expert contributions from Europe, Australasia, the Pacific, North America and Asia, it includes insightful chapters on issues ranging across the impacts of climate change on marine and coastal environments It assesses institutional responses to climate change in ocean and marine governance regimes adaptation to climate impacts on ocean and coastal systems and communities and climate change mitigation in marine and coastal environments Through a plurality of voices disciplinary and geographical perspectives this Research Handbook explores cross cutting themes of institutional complexity fragmentation scale and design trade offs

When Vulnerability Meets Power Steve Reeves, Marcus Erooga, 2025-12-23 Recent crises relating to non governmental aid organisations have brought into sharp focus the need for a greater understanding of the safeguarding challenges which the international aid and development sector faces and how to respond to them in a consistent systematic and effective way This essential safeguarding guide provides insight to operational organisational and cultural challenges within the international aid and development sector The book brings together carefully chosen key professionals who have extensive operational experience of addressing and responding to these issues In a highly challenging environment with multiple competing demands this book is a clearly focused and accessible resource It sets out what those leading in the field need to be aware of what responses they need to make and how to maintain necessary change in the long term In relation to each key issue through its range of chapters the book explores what the challenge is what is current or suggested best practice and what future developments are needed It provides the sector with an accessible authoritative and ultimately essential handbook for all those working in the international aid and development sector whether they are practitioners safeguarding specialists senior leaders in governance roles or regulators The emphasis is on facilitating sector wide change embedding best practice and encouraging work that effectively ensures the safety and wellbeing of the world s most vulnerable people

The International Rule of Law Heike Krieger, Georg Nolte, Andreas Zimmermann, 2019 Introduction Historical perspectives Actor centred perspectives System oriented perspectives Justice and legitimacy

Global Governance and the Role of Non-state Actors Gunnar Folke Schuppert, 2006 This book represents a conference organized by the Social Science Research Centre Berlin WZB the Alfred Herrhausen Society The International Forum of the Deutsche Bank and the Centre for the Analysis of Risk and Regulation CARR at the London School of Economics and Political Science LSE in November 2004 in London Changes in statehood are one of the main indicators of a shift in the focus of governance onto the global level This is manifested most clearly in the emergence and growing importance of actors that are no longer tied to national or state contexts in the traditional way as with national parliaments government ministries or administrative bodies The age of global governance is an age of international actors such as the WTO and of non state actors such as non governmental organizations NGOs and transnational corporations TNCs The aim of the conference was to take a closer look at these non state actors the scope of their activities the way they operate and the extent to which they are perhaps more appropriately classified as governance actors given their function as regulators and standard setters tasks more traditionally associated with the state
