Second Philosophy A Naturalistic Method:

Second Philosophy Penelope Maddy, 2007-04-19 Many philosophers these days consider themselves naturalists but it is doubtful any two of them intend the same position by the term In this book Penelope Maddy describes and practises a particularly austere form of naturalism called Second Philosophy Without a definitive criterion for what counts as science and what doesn't Second Philosophy can't be specified directly trust only the methods of science or some such thing so Maddy proceeds instead by illustrating the behaviours of an idealized inquirer she calls the Second Philosopher This Second Philosopher begins from perceptual common sense and progresses from there to systematic observation active experimentation theory formation and testing working all the while to assess correct and improve her methods as she goes Second Philosophy is then the result of the Second Philosopher's investigations Maddy delineates the Second Philosopher's approach by tracing her reactions to various familiar skeptical and transcendental views Descartes Kant Carnap late Putnam van Fraassen comparing her methods to those of other self-described naturalists especially Quine and examining a prominent contemporary debate between disquotationalists and correspondence theorists in the theory of truth to extract a properly second philosophical line of thought She then undertakes to practise Second Philosophy in her reflections on the ground of logical truth the methodology ontology and epistemology of mathematics and the general prospects for metaphysics naturalized

Naturalism Beyond the Limits of Science Nina Emery, 2023 This volume argues that when coming up with theories about what the world is like philosophers should whenever possible make use of the same methodology that is deployed by scientists Nina Emery's investigation illuminates the complex relationship between philosophy and the sciences showing how philosophers and scientists alike would benefit from a greater understanding of the connections between the two fields

The Oxford Handbook of Philosophical Methodology Herman Cappelen, Tamar Gendler, John P. Hawthorne, 2016 This is the most comprehensive book ever published on philosophical methodology A team of thirty-eight of the world's leading philosophers present original essays on various aspects of how philosophy should be and is done The first part is devoted to broad traditions and approaches to philosophical methodology including logical empiricism phenomenology and ordinary language philosophy The entries in the second part address topics in philosophical methodology such as intuitions conceptual analysis and transcendental arguments The third part of the book is devoted to essays about the interconnections between philosophy and neighbouring fields including those of mathematics psychology literature and film and neuroscience

A Science-Based Critique of Epistemological Naturalism in Quine's Tradition Reto Gubelmann, 2019-07-27 At the intersection of epistemology metaphilosophy and philosophy of science this exciting new book examines the epistemic limits of empirical science It makes a unique contribution to research on epistemological naturalism in Quine's tradition by criticizing the position based on first order data from empirical psychology and the history of natural science This way it meets the naturalist on their own ground not only regarding subject matter but also regarding their epistemic methods The book explores the works of a variety of philosophers in the field including W V Quine Penelope Maddy Tyler Burge Stathis Psillos and Howard Sankey By carefully considering experimental results from behaviourism as well as developmental and perceptual psychology Gubelmann finds that none of these disciplines can furnish the epistemic means to successfully naturalize the central cognitive preconditions of scientific theorizing Furthermore Gubelmann presents novel arguments for the claims that epistemological naturalists are committed to scientific realism and that they are unable to defend this position Based on these results Gubelmann concludes that epistemology is not part of empirical science which directly contradicts epistemological naturalism

Philosophers Past and Present Barry Stroud,2011-06-30 This volume of uncollected essays by Barry Stroud explores central ideas in the work of individual philosophers from Descartes Berkeley and Locke to Quine Burge McDowell Goldman Fogelin and Sosa Stroud confronts a series of philosophical issues and examines the sources implications and legacy of Hume s naturalism and scepticism

Scientism: The New Orthodoxy Richard N. Williams, Daniel N. Robinson,2014-11-20 Scientism The New Orthodoxy is a comprehensive philosophical overview of the question of scientism discussing the role and place of science in the humanities religion and the social sciences Clarifying and defining the key terms in play in discussions of scientism this collection identifies the dimensions that differentiate science from scientism Leading scholars appraise the means available to science covering the impact of the neurosciences and the new challenges it presents for the law and the self Illustrating the effect of scientism on the social sciences and the humanities Scientism the New Orthodoxy addresses what science is and what it is not This provocative collection is an important contribution to the social sciences and the humanities in the 21st century Contributors include Peter Hacker Bastiaan van Fraassen Daniel N Robinson Kenneth Schaffner Roger Scruton James K A Smith Richard Swinburne Lawrence Principe and Richard N Williams

Epistemic Relativism and Scepticism Steven Bland,2018-07-21 This book confronts the threats of epistemic relativism and Pyrrhonian scepticism to analytic philosophy Epistemic relativists reject absolute notions of knowledge and justification while sceptics claim that knowledge and justification of any kind are unattainable If either of these views is correct then there can be no objective basis for thinking that one set of methods does a better job of delivering accurate information than any other set of methods Philosophers have generally sought to resist these threats by responding to the argument that seems to motivate both positions the Agrippan trilemma Steven Bland argues that this is a mistaken strategy He surveys the most influential responses to the Agrippan trilemma and shows that none of them succeeds in undermining epistemic relativism Bland also offers a new dialectical strategy of challenging epistemic relativism by uncovering how epistemic methods depend on one another for their applications By means of this novel analysis the book concludes that there are principled reasons to prefer naturalistic to non naturalistic methods even if these reasons do little to ease the threat of scepticism

Philosophy's Loss of Logic to Mathematics Woosuk Park,2018-07-12 This book offers a historical explanation of important philosophical problems in logic and mathematics which have been neglected by the official history of modern logic It offers extensive information on Gottlob Frege s logic discussing which aspects of his logic can be considered truly innovative in its revolution against the Aristotelian logic It presents the work of Hilbert and his associates and followers with the aim of understanding the revolutionary change in the axiomatic method Moreover it offers useful tools to understand Tarski s and G del s work explaining why the problems they discussed are still unsolved Finally the book reports on some of the most influential positions in contemporary philosophy of mathematics i e Maddy s mathematical naturalism and Shapiro s mathematical structuralism Last but not least the book introduces Biancani s Aristotelian philosophy of mathematics as this is considered important to understand current philosophical issue in the applications of mathematics One of the main purposes of the book is to stimulate readers to reconsider the Aristotelian position which disappeared almost completely from the scene in logic and mathematics in the early twentieth century Proceedings and Addresses of the American Philosophical Association American Philosophical Association,2010 List of members in v 1
